MRS. MALCOLM MACINTYRE ENTERTAINS FOR D. A. R.

Mrs. Malcolm Macintyre entertained Tuesday afternoon at her home in Maunaloa the members of Aloha Chapter and visiting Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. James Guild assisted in receiving.

So many of the states were represented that this gathering was of unusual interest.

Miss Tubbs of Kawaihauo seminary in her pleasing way delighted and cheered by her songs.

Mrs. Seymour Van Cleve of New York city won her hearers as she talked so kindly in telling of woman's part in the great war, and of the American flag abroad, and of the home of Washington in England. Mrs. Van Cleve had the quiet yet happy power of bringing tears and provoking smiles.

The president of Mills College, Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, who has served as regent of Sierra Chapter for several years, was an inspiration, for in her talk were mingled truths, facts and humorous pleasantry. She told of the work possible for D. A. R. Chapters and paid worthy tribute to Lincoln and Washington.

The gracious welcome bestowed and the greetings from afar made glad and merry the social hour.

MR. AND MRS. WALTER DILLINGHAM'S DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham gave a very charming dinner party on Wednesday evening for Miss Alice Cooke and Mr. Philip Spalding, whose engagement has just recently been announced.

The table was exceedingly pretty. A miniature bride and groom with the guests assembled made a most attractive decoration. At one end of the table was a miniature altar with the miniature guests gathered. Dainty ribbon-bearers marked the aisle and at the entrance stood the bride and groom, it all giving a very unique effect. After the dinner the guests attended the Valentine party given by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dowsett.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillingham's guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castle, Miss Vera Damon, Miss Beatrice Castle, Miss Nora Sturgeon, Miss Clow, Mr. Louis Beard, Mr. Vivian Dyer, Lieut. Wallace Philson, Mr. Walter Spalding and Miss Alice Cooke and Mr. Philip Spalding, for whom the dinner was given.

MISS STEPHENS ENTERTAINS
Miss Anita Stephens has sent out invitations to a number of friends to a dinner party at the Moana hotel tomorrow evening in honor of Capt. and Mrs. George R. Clark of Pearl Harbor and Col. and Mrs. Richard C. Croxton.

Present at the dinner will be Governor Pinkham, Capt. and Mrs. Clark, Col. and Mrs. Croxton, Col. and Mrs. Daniel L. Howell, Col. and Mrs. J. B. Houston, Col. and Mrs. T. N. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey of Chicago, Mrs. A. J. George of Boston, Mrs. Charles R. Forbes, Miss Dehya of Washington, Miss Bailey, Miss Clark, Maj. H. O. Williams, Mr. Charles P. McAvoy, Capt. L. S. Eckels, Lieut. C. C. Windsor and Mr. Sam Weller.

Table decorations are to be vases of pink gladioli festooned with pink tulle.

A VALENTINE PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dowsett entertained on Wednesday evening with a Valentine party honoring Miss Eloise Wichman and Mr. Dickson Nott. The Country Club, where the affair took place, was beautifully decorated in hearts and greens by Miss Jessie Kennedy. Some of the costumes worn were very beautiful and it was indeed a difficult task to award the prizes. About 125 guests were in attendance.

A LUNCHEON IN NULANI

Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman entertained very informally at luncheon on Thursday of this week at their lovely Nulani home, honoring Admiral and Mrs. Brownson and Mr. and Mrs. Matteo Sandona.

Mrs. Daniel J. Riordan, wife of Congressman Riordan of New York, member of the house committee on naval affairs. Mrs. Riordan will probably visit here if the proposed trip of the congressmen to Hawaii this spring becomes a certainty.

MRS. JAMES DOUGHERTY'S BRIDGE TEA

Mrs. James Dougherty was hostess at a bridge tea on Thursday afternoon. After several interesting sets were played refreshments were served. Mrs. Dougherty's guests were Mrs. Burr Freer, Mrs. Hunston and Mrs. Bland, for whom the party was given; Miss Mary Freer, Mrs. Harry Wilder, Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. Annie Lackland, Mrs. Arthur Davidson, Mrs. A. Hocking, Mrs. Harry Hoffman, Mrs. Alexander G. M. Robertson, Mrs. Henry F. Wichman, Mrs. Arthur F. Wall, Mrs. Dora Ahlborn, Mrs. Annie Haneberg, Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Frank E. Richardson.

A DINNER ON BOARD THE ST. LOUIS

Commander Victor Houston was given a surprise on Saturday evening last when friends came aboard the U. S. S. St. Louis for dinner. Those at the dinner were Mrs. Victor Houston, Mrs. Harold Giffard, Dr. Lauren S. Eckels and the surprised host, Commander Victor Houston.

FRIDAY BRIDGE AT THE MOANA

The prize winners at Friday's bridge at the Moana were Mrs. Looser, Miss Hodgson, Sydney, Miss Woodford, Miss Braine, Brooklyn, N. Y., Miss Koenen and Mrs. Alford. The tea dancers and evening dances continue to be very well patronized by townfolk and the army and navy.

MR. AND MRS. A. H. STORRS' DINNER

The Pleasanton hotel was the scene of a dinner on Wednesday evening at which Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Storrs presided. Their guests were Mrs. C. A. Helen, Mrs. W. H. Storrs and Miss J. Storrs.

Dancing was enjoyed after dinner.

MRS. ROBERT LEWERS GIVES A TEA

Former students of Wellesley College were invited by Mrs. Robert Lewers to come and meet Mrs. Emmerich of Hazleton, Pa., on Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. Lewers' home. The spacious rooms were bright with hibiscus bloom and white candy tuft. Those invited by Mrs. Lewers to meet Mrs. Emmerich were Miss Ethel Damon, Miss Ruth Richards, Miss Margaret Hopper, Miss Marjory Peterson, Mrs. H. P. Agee, Miss Newton, Miss Noble Newton, Miss May Fraser, Mrs. Ching, Mrs. George Isenberg, Mrs. Frank E. Thompson, Mrs. H. Walker, Mrs. David Olson, Mrs. Arthur Jones, Miss Maynard, Miss Letitia Morgan and Mrs. Harris of Providence, R. I.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent talking over college days at Wellesley.

MRS. FRANK KEEFER'S BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. Frank Keefer is a very clever woman for she entertains her guests in the cool of the day. On Friday morning her guests came early, played bridge until noon, enjoyed their luncheon, then motored away to other parties. Those who were fortunate to score highest and receive gifts were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Duennen and Mrs. Thompson. Dainty personal gifts were awarded. Mrs. Keefer's guests were Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Callender, Mrs. Bell, Miss Del McCue, Mrs. Robert Ruennen, Mrs. Denbigh, Mrs. A. D. Starr, Mrs. Howard Thompson, Mrs. George Converse, Mrs. James McRae and Mrs. Dora Ahlborn.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT LUNCHEON

Miss Doris Noble is a luncheon hostess today, the event being that very auspicious occasion, the announcement of her engagement to Mr. Harold Edward Morgan. Both young people are islanders and number their friends by the score and all will wish them all the happiness the world can hold for them.

A pink basket was used as a centerpiece, it being filled with shell pink hibiscus and white candy tuft. Long streamers of pink and white tulle added to the general effect.

Miss Noble's guests were Miss Jannatt Sharp, Miss Ramona Morgan, Miss Letitia Morgan, Miss Geraldine Berg, Miss Mildred Merryman, Miss Maud Ballentyne, Miss Margaret Thurston, Miss Grace Morgan and Miss Catherine Blake.

A corsage bouquet of spring blossoms was used at each guest's cover.

MR. AND MRS. R. E. BRISTOL'S DINNER

A Valentine party was the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bristol's friends when they gave dinner at the Rathskeller on Wednesday evening. A large red heart made of carnations was most attractive. Crystal candlesticks were shaded in red silk. After dinner the Roof Garden program was enjoyed for an hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Bristol's guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of Chicago and Kansas City, Judge and Mrs. William B. Lymer, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wiley Mather and Capt. Henry Merriam.

CAPT. S. A. PURVIANCE A DINNER HOST

One of the prettiest of the dinners at the University Club this evening will be that at which Capt. S. A. Purviance will preside over as host.

Capt. Purviance's guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown of New York city, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Todd of New York city, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Witmire of Des Moines, Mrs. Grafton Beall, Miss Magruder and Mr. J. Lewis Cochran of Chicago.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM WILLIAMSON'S INFORMAL DINNER

Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. William Williamson entertained, honoring Mrs. Harold Law and Miss Florence Brazerman of San Francisco. The other guests were Mrs. Grafton Beall, Mr. Douglas Young and Mr. Harry Macfarlane.

Engagement Rings

The essential virtues of Wichman engagement rings are perfection of the diamond's crystal, brilliancy and purity of color, and a design that you know is of the latest vogue. We offer some exceptionally fine specimens, mounted in settings of original and artistic fashioning to the prospective bridegroom of a month or so hence.
